

KICKSTARTER ONE PAGER

Why Kickstarter?

Lines in Art is being independently published because working with real, copyrighted artworks requires precision, care, and full creative control.

Licensing original masterpieces involves strict agreements around reproduction quality, color accuracy, and responsible usage. We chose Kickstarter so we could produce the book thoughtfully and at the highest standard, honoring the artists, the rights holders, and the integrity of each artwork.

Kickstarter allows us to bring this project to life without compromise. It makes it possible to invest in premium printing, proper licensing, and careful production from the very first print run.

This project is built on respect for real art. Independence allows us to protect that standard, together with the community who believes children deserve access to it.
